

IU Northwest Standard Class Meeting Time Slots Fall 2026 Schedule of Classes

The IU Northwest class schedule follows a 750-contact minute per credit hour model to comport with the traditional definition of the Carnegie credit hour unit. This translates as 2250 contact minutes for a 3.00 credit hour class, composed of 150 minutes per week over 15 weeks of instruction (plus finals week) generally divided into two 75-minute class meetings.

The eight distinct 75-minute time slots (A-H) do not overlap and are combined sequentially, as needed, per class meeting day, to cover required Carnegie contact minutes over 15 weeks of instruction. Adhering to defined time slots will greatly simplify the scheduling process, reduce student schedule conflicts, and alleviate classroom booking constraints.
